

Len Allgaier – Vice President – Strategic Planning

Len is the head of Leadership Manufacturing and Manufacturing Innovation and Technology for Industry (MITI) - two organizations that provide consulting services for implementing next generation technology, methodology and management practices in the manufacturing industry. He also helped found the National Association for the Collaborative Development of Manufacturing Sciences (NCMS) based in Ann Arbor, which promotes the advancement of manufacturing.